
TROJAN '67

TROJAN

FOREWORD

This book is a record of the 1967 Trojan school year. From the first time the wide-eyed freshmen walked down the now familiar halls, to the moment when the final senior stepped across the stage, diploma in hand. It was a year full of joys, sorrow, and adventure. But one cannot look at just the football team and get a complete picture of the school year.

One can't look at just the good or the bad and get an accurate idea of the schools qualities. The games, the dances, the classes, the plays, our favorite teachers, and our best friends are combined here to give a complete picture of this memorable and successful year in the halls of Troy.

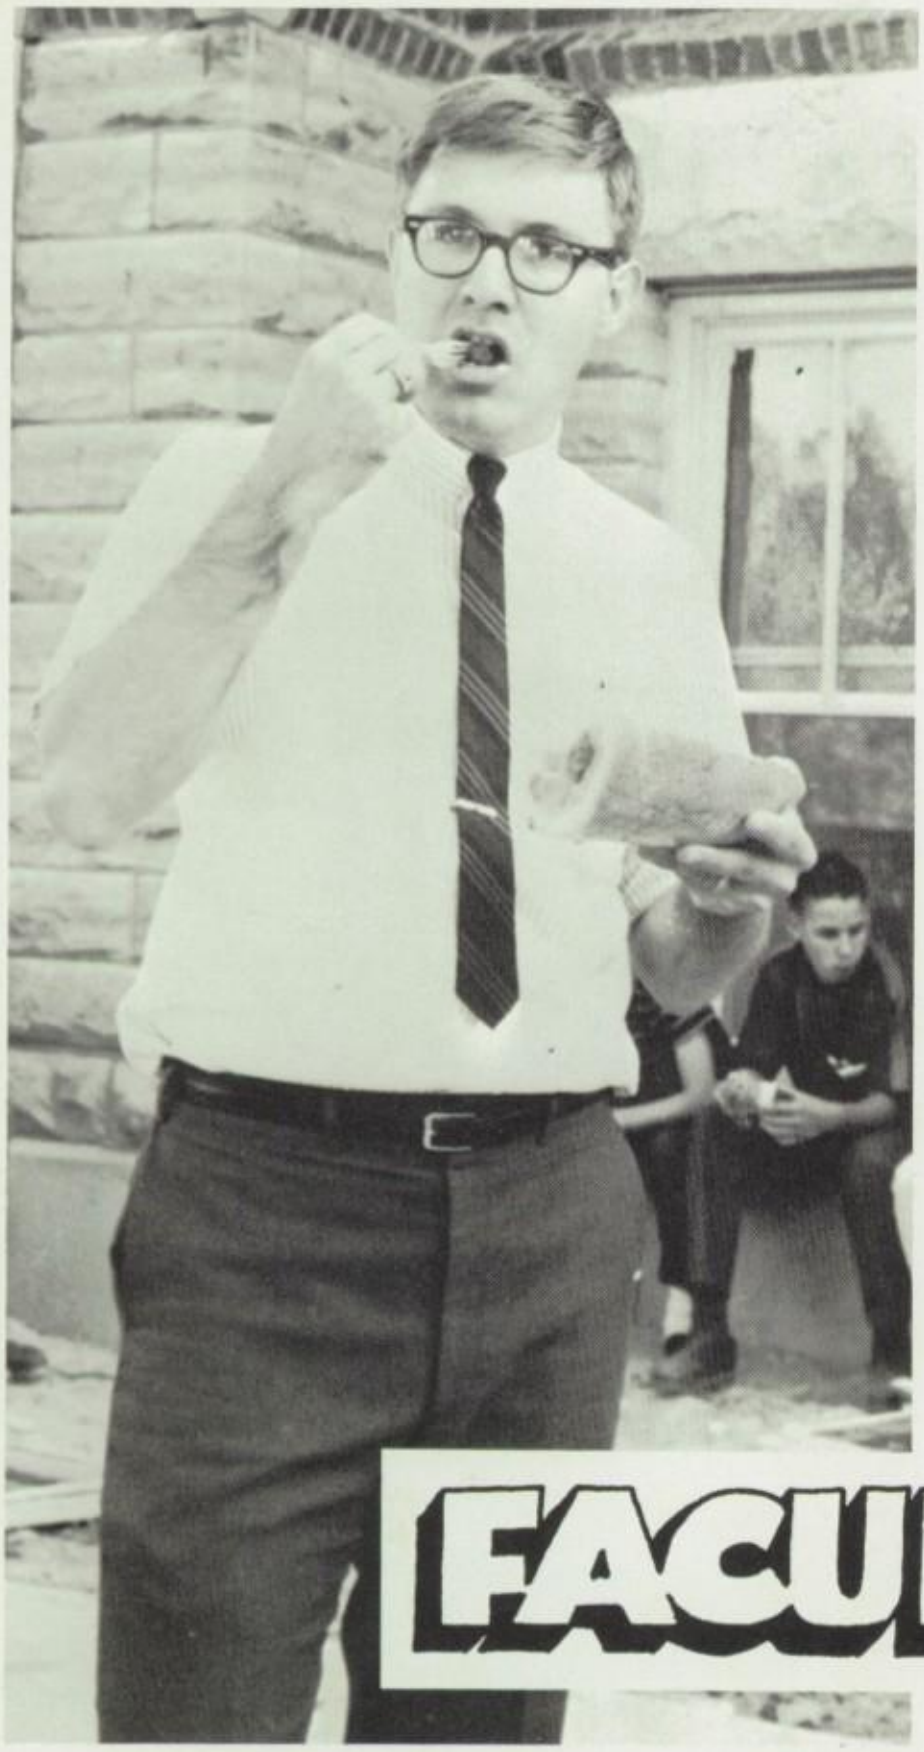
ACTIVITIES



The Faculty and Administration play important roles in the making of a complete school year.

Both the Faculty and Administration have worked hard to impress each student as to the importance of one main educational purpose--the development of the ability to think.

They have done their job well, for each student gained in knowledge and experience under the excellent leadership provided.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education of Unified School District #273 has dedicated itself to the proposition of providing the necessary educational opportunities to the students of our district, so that they might fully develop their God-given talents regardless of race, color, or creed. They have placed the facilities in good repair, employed an excellent staff, and purchased the necessary equipment and materials to accomplish this goal. It is their desire that each student in Beloit High School take it upon himself to strive to take advantage of the many opportunities placed before him. They fully realize that each student is the "captain of his own ship" in terms of providing the self-determination to be successful.

Three factors enter into the formula for the success and happiness of an individual student attending Beloit High School. They are ability, desire, and preparation. The Board of Education and our community have provided, through our schools, the opportunity for each student to acquire the necessary preparation according to his ability and desire.

We are in hopes that as you complete your education and go on to new opportunities, you will look back upon your days in Beloit High School as being both enjoyable and rewarding in preparing you for a richer life.

Ronald E. Gridley

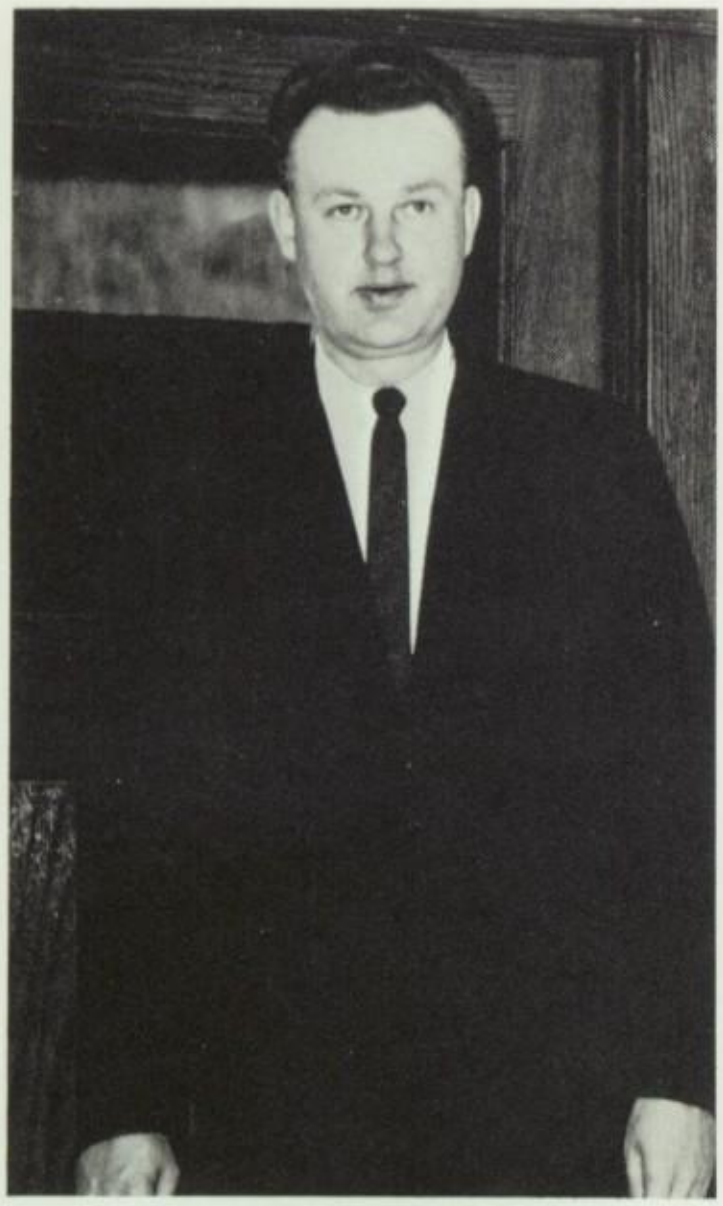
CLERK OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Taking messages, answering the phone, and making appointments for our superintendent are some of the duties of his secretary, Mrs. Betty Vetter. She is the major factor in keeping the office running smoothly and efficiently.

Mrs. Betty Vetter

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Gridley, Superintendent of Unified School District 273, is chief planner and co-ordinator who keeps the vast machinery of the district running smoothly. During Mr. Gridley's three years as superintendent many improvements have been made, and many additional ones are planned for the future.



RON GRIDLEY

For nine years, Bob Harrison has been principal of Beloit High School. Before becoming principal, he served as coach and classroom teacher for twelve years. Mr. Harrison received his AB Degree from Kansas Wesleyan and his MS from Kansas State University.

BOB HARRISON

Our efficient secretary, aided by student office girls of the Vocational-Technical Work-Study program, directs the steady flow of administrative duties. Some of her duties include checking daily attendance records, supervising class schedules, aiding teachers and students and doing secretarial work for Mr. Harrison.

SECRETARY

MRS. LORNA PECK

LANGUAGE ARTS

These six faculty members instruct students in grammar, oral and written communication, and reading, library study and listening skills and the various types of literature.

MR. LAWSON
Psychologist

Mr. Lawson is director of psychological services of Unified School District 273. He also acts as coordinator of Project Rescue.

L. to R.: Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Riest, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Henry, and Mrs. White.

Mrs. Maxwell
Head Cook

The cooks prepare and serve approximately 450 lunches every day to junior and senior high students, faculty members and other school employees. From salad to dessert, each meal is prepared to be delicious and nutritious.

The capable staff headed by Mrs. Harold Maxwell utilizes up-to-date cooking and clean-up equipment.

SERVICE STAFF

MAKES SCHOOL COMPLETE

Building maintenance is the never-ending and often thankless job of the high school custodians. Ben and Clarence give daily attention to chalkboards, desks, floors, and waste-baskets. In addition to maintaining the building they are also helpful to students and teachers in setting the stage for assemblies, carrying heavy apparatus, and repairing whatever needs fixing.

CLASSES

To get a complete picture of the BHS school year, it is necessary to look at a most important section--the classes.

From the moment when a freshman enters the Halls of Troy for the first time to the moment when he cleans out his locker for the last time, each student has progressed through four classes--and each class has earned him friends, knowledge, and the ability to get along in todays fast moving world.

SENIORS

What was once a dream has now become a reality. We, the graduating class of 67, have reached that goal set for us since that first day of school so long ago. Behind us are the memories of frightening days as young freshmen facing with determination all that BHS had to offer. Our football and basketball victories, our first homecomings, the junior and senior plays, our Christmas proms and spring banquets all play a special part in making these four years special. Then there was the day we chose class rings, a sign of being almost there, and later we voted for the invitations to our own graduation. Now the time has come to take all that this school has given us and go out on our own to make our way. There are mixed emotions; the sorrow that comes from saying goodbye and the joy from knowing we've come this far.....

Claude Servieres played the role as foreign exchange student for the 1966-67 school year. He came from a small village in France, Marseilles, near Paris to live with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Waggoner and Rex, a BHS junior. Throughout the year Claude has managed to win his way into the friendship of the rest of the student body of BHS. He has participated in Student Council, AFS projects, Hi-Y, and intramural basketball. He was an honorary escort at the track homecoming and he spoke to several groups and entertained people by playing his accordion.

ORGANIZATIONS

The organization portion of BHS life holds an essential place in the complete picture. Though not graded or considered technically a part of the educational curriculum, the various organizations and clubs play perhaps the greatest single role in teaching students about business, politics, proper social behavior, and how to get along with fellow workers throughout their lives. Without organizations, the entire picture would be blurred.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council sponsors many activities during the year. Their major project is that of sponsoring the AFS students. This year for the first time BHS sent one abroad: Gregg Olson who spent a summer in Finland, appeared on several programs telling his experiences and showing slides of his Finnish family and their homeland. To aid on the fund raising activities, they added a powder-puff football game this year and held the usual evening of basketball.

They sponsored assemblies, homecoming dances, and in the spring conducted spirited election campaigns.

PEP CLUB

Pep Club officers from FRONT TO BACK: Phyllis Remley, President, Charlene Woods, Secretary, Barb Nelson, Vice-President and Liz Berndt, Treasurer.

The pep club, 160 strong, had a very successful year. The girls decorated the halls for every football and basketball game, decorated for the homecoming dances, and performed during half-time coronation ceremonies. To raise money they sold basketball and football season tickets, and helped with the concessions stands.

The pep club was operated on a points-for-award basis, and the organization provided the opportunity for many girls to win awards while offering a unique school service.

A-Team Cheerleaders: Dee Ann File, Sherry Conley, Nancy Nelson; Head Cheerleader, Earlene Boyd, and Donna Davis led the cheers for the 1966-67 varsity teams.

Y-TEENS

Y-Teens, a Christian Organization open to all girls in high school, has for its purpose to help girls to grow in a Christian way through programs and activities. During the year the girls enjoy a Big and Little Sister picnic, a pot-luck dinner with their mothers, and a Pa and Me Banquet. They also make floats for the Football and Basketball homecomings.

Service projects include the Cerebral Palsy drive, making favors for the hospital, and decorating the halls at Christmas time.

To raise money they sold magazines and had sports concessions. With part of this money they send girls to summer Y-Teen camp.

THE JUNIOR PLAY

"1984" was presented on March 30 and 31.

1984 is a drama in three acts. It's based on the novel by George Orwell. It deals with a civilization that doesn't allow the human mind to function on its own. A satire with a warning to the audience of what life can be, the play supplied the kind of impact that makes for a success.

CHRISTMAS PROM

"O Tannenbaum" was the theme of the annual Senior Prom held December 17 at the Elks Lodge. Jerry File as Master of Ceremonies introduced the following program: Stan Belden, Welcome; Dales Kent, Response; the Senior Girls' Ensemble, and Pam VanLeewen who gave two readings.

The Smith Center Dance Band provided the music for the prom.

SENIOR RECEPTION

Mrs. Petterson and Mrs. Waggoner serve punch at the senior reception following commencement.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

"Sayonara" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom held on May sixth at the Municipal Building.

Mrs. Lukens, senior English teacher, stood in front of the Green Dragon as she spoke on the topic "Slow Down and Think."

The juniors presented a skit entitled "Swank Night" and Mr. Bice, chorus teacher, sang "Sayonara."

Mr. Burch and Mr. Foulke enjoy dancing with their wives to the music of the Earl Van Cleef band.

Mike Stewart and Pam Van Leewen pose in front of the Japanese mountain.

ASSEMBLIES AND LYCEUMS

Dales Kent reads the traditional story at the annual Christmas assembly.

Coach Burch receives the meanest man of the year award at the senior assembly. The "also-rans" express their approval.

Phyllis Remley and Jim Wiles assist Bob Moorehead in a magic trick.

We have thus far attempted to give a complete and vivid picture of the 1967 school year. Now there is but one empty place in the picture-athletics. Trojan sportsmanship this past year was equaled only by Trojan capability and output.

We at BHS are proud of our athletes for their accomplishments in every field of sports. They have truly earned their successes.

Cross country is a sport that shows a person his physical potential; it inspires a runner to improve himself and his team. The X-Country team of Beloit High was the first sport to hit the new NKL record book. This team with their strength and endurance in the two-mile race won them first place. John Corman, a junior, placed 11th out of 100 participating at the state meet. Coached by Mr. McVicker the team participated in eight meets and made an excellent record.
